Research Experience

Summer 2021- Hunter College, New York, NY

Present Doctoral Student Researcher, Hunter Psycho-Oncology Lab, Department of Psychology
Supervisor: Jennifer Ford, PhD

- Provide written support for NIH grant submissions (specifically U54 mechanisms), as well as internal CUNY applications
- Supervision of undergraduate honors theses (see “Mentorship”)

04/2022-Present: Self-Perception and Intimacy after the Cancer Experience (SPICE)

PI: Megan Wirtz, BA

This study explores the interaction between sexual wellbeing and functioning on self-esteem of young adult cancer survivors via mechanisms such as body image, interpersonal relationships, and sexual health knowledge.

- Conceptualized two-phased study (cognitive interview and data collection) to test a framework of sexual self-esteem via quantitative and qualitative methods
- Conducting semi-structured cognitive interviews (n = 5) to ensure testing accurate framework
- Administering quantitative surveys (n = 200) to test novel sexual self-esteem framework

02/2022-05/2022: Fertility and Maternal Values After Cancer (FAM)

PIs: Zeba Ahmad, Ed.M., MA; Jennifer Ford, PhD

This study explores experiences with oncofertility survivorship care, focused on desire for family-building, culture and acculturation, stigma, and impact of cancer among Black and Latina female young adult cancer survivors.

- Developed a qualitative codebook for future analyses
- Independently applied both inductive and deductive codes for multiple transcripts

07/2021-12/2021: Forecasting Relationships, Thoughts, and Identity for Young Adults (FORTIFY)

PIs: Zeba Ahmad, Ed.M., MA; Jennifer Ford, PhD

This mixed-methods study seeks to investigate how young adult cancer survivors may shape their identity as a “cancer survivor” following cancer, and whether emotions such as shame, pride, embarrassment, or guilt about the aftereffects of cancer affect their functioning in social relationships. Further, it aims to investigate how thoughts and emotions about one's future (future-oriented thought and emotion) may contribute to feelings of social isolation.

- Trained in developing a qualitative codebook for future analyses
- Independently applied both inductive and deductive codes for multiple transcripts

Summer 2019- Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, MA

Summer 2021 Clinical Research Coordinator II, Behavioral Medicine Program, Department of Psychiatry
Supervisors: Conall O' Cleirigh, PhD; Samantha Marquez McKetchnie, MSW

- Managed, conducted, and prepared study visits and research across multiple studies (detailed below)
- Coordinated and submitted multi-site grant proposals to agencies including the NIH (specifically R01, R21, and R34 mechanisms), Harvard University Center for AIDS Research, and American Lung Association
- Created, submitted, and maintained ethics applications, amendments, continuing reviews, and materials for a variety of domestic and international studies
- Conducted and analyzed research to prepare for publication and presentation (see above)
- Navigated all primary studies (see below) through the COVID-19 pandemic

11/2020-07/2021: Development of an Integrated mHealth App-Based Intervention to Support Smoking Cessation in People Living with HIV (NIH 1R21CA261458)

PIs: Bettina Hoepfner, PhD; Conall O' Cleirigh, PhD

The purpose of this study is to develop an integrated mHealth smartphone app-based intervention to support smoking cessation in people living with HIV engaged in HIV clinical care.

Assistant Clinical Research Coordinator

- Trained in conducting screening calls and onboarding procedures for participants engaged in Study 1, aiming to refine a previous version of an mHealth cessation-supportive app
- Trained in conducting semi-structured interview to assess participant engagement with the application
- Refined onboarding procedures and semi-structured interview to better engage with potential participants
- Acted as a consultant for various components of study, including REDCap fixes, payment plan suggestions, and recruitment strategies

5/2020-07/2021: Effectiveness of an Integrated Treatment to Address Smoking Cessation and Anxiety/Depression in People Living with HIV - Supplement (NIH 5R01DA047933-S1)

PIs: Conall O' Cleirigh, PhD; Jasper Smits, PhD; Michael Zvolensky, PhD

This administrative supplement looks to investigate the effects of COVID-19 among people living with HIV who smoke.

Lead Study Clinical Research Coordinator

- Conducted visits for all site participants (N at departure = 10) across up to 5 visits over 2 years
- Coordinated all study start-up, including dried blood spot analyses for COVID testing, across three implementation sites in Massachusetts and Texas
- Created and programmed REDCap databases
- Crafted manual of procedures for remote data collection
- Aided in drafting of grant submission

06/2019-07/2021: Effectiveness of an Integrated Treatment to Address Smoking Cessation and Anxiety/Depression in People Living with HIV (NIH 5R01DA047933)

PIs: Conall O' Cleirigh, PhD; Jasper Smits, PhD; Michael Zvolensky, PhD

Lead Study Clinical Research Coordinator

This study is a randomized controlled trial aiming to test the efficacy and cost-effectiveness of an intervention (QUIT) vs. a time-matched control and a standard (non-active) control, targeting people living with HIV who smoke in Boston, MA and Houston, TX.

- Conducted study visits for all site participants (N at departure = 22) across 14 visits and three different conditions, including assessment administration, medication instruction, and cessation encouragement
- Coordinated study start-up, including implementing the Single IRB process, programming all questionnaires into REDCap, and drafting recruitment materials
- Created and implemented a tool to assess therapist fidelity and competency

- Maintained documentation across three implementation sites, allowing for a streamlined process in a dynamic intervention
- Crafted manual of procedures for both in-person and remote data collection

06/2019-07/2021: The TENDAI Study: Task Shifting to Treat Depression and HIV Medication Nonadherence in Low Resource Settings (NIH 5R01MH114708)

PIs: Conall O’Cleirigh, PhD; Melanie Abas, MD

Site Clinical Research Coordinator

This study is a randomized controlled trial aiming to test the efficacy and cost-effectiveness of an intervention (TENDAI) vs. Enhanced Standard Care, targeting poor ART adherence and depression in participants attending ART clinics in rural Zimbabwe.

- Created systems for efficiently checking, managing, and cleaning data for 262 (and counting) participants across six intervention sessions and four major assessments
- Maintained documentation to provide supplementary ethics board approval
- Equipped team members with secure technology, to allow for transmission of data across sites

06/2019-07/2021: Pre-Award Grant Administration

Multiple PIs, including: Lara Traeger, PhD; Christina Psaros, PhD; Amelia Stanton, PhD

Co-Lead Pre-Award Grant Administrator, Behavioral Medicine Program

- Prepared administrative sections and submit grants, including prime applications, subawards, and supplements to funding agencies (National Institutes of Health, American Lung Association, and Harvard Center for AIDS Research)
- Educated all investigators in the Behavioral Medicine Program in grant application requirements and timelines, creating open communication between PIs and administrators
- Trained incoming Clinical Research Coordinators in grant administration to ensure a smooth transition

Fall 2016-
Spring 2019

University of Richmond Department of Psychology, Richmond, VA

Undergraduate Research Assistant/Honors Thesis Researcher, Lundberg Lab, Department of Psychology
Supervisor: Kristjen Lundberg, PhD

08/2018-05/2019: Senior Honors Thesis Researcher

- Crafted a two-part research study assessing the relationship between socioeconomic status, empathic accuracy, and well-being
- Managed a multi-thousand-dollar budget (awarded two internal grants, enumerated below)
- Analyzed all data, resulting in two poster presentations
- Assembled honors thesis, resulting in archival publication at the University of Richmond

08/2016-05/2018: Undergraduate Research Assistant

- Conducted a variety of statistical analyses in SPSS, resulting in several poster authorships
- Created MTurk and Qualtrics surveys for lab projects, allowing for a more streamlined data collection
- Provided data entry and coding in both Excel and SPSS to prepare for data analysis
- Assembled and revised IRB materials to expedite data collection
- Reviewed literature to supplement IRB submissions and poster presentations

Summer 2018

Child Trends, Bethesda, MD

Education Research Intern

Supervisor: Deborah Temkin, PhD

- Prepared qualitative research for website publication
- Coded CLASS observations on school climate into Excel to improve school climate in the DC area
- Reviewed public-facing legislation using the Whole Child, Whole Community, Whole School model
- Prepared graphical representations of quantitative data for dissemination to stakeholders

Summer 2017

Children’s National Health System, Washington, DC

Safe Concussion Outcome and Recovery Education Clinic Intern, Center for Neuroscience and Behavioral Medicine

Supervisors: Gerard Gioia, PhD; Catherine McGill, PsyD; Ashley Levan, PhD

- Analyzed data on concussion symptomology, resulting in a poster authorship
- Coded neuropsychological case files into REDCap (English and Spanish) for future studies
- Observed neuropsychological evaluations and measures to contextualize research
- Participated in Grand Rounds to broaden knowledge of the entire medical field

Clinical Experience

Summer 2023- Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center, New York, NY

Summer 2024 Neuropsychology Extern, Department of Psychiatry & Behavioral Sciences

Fall 2022- Hunter College, New York, NY

Spring 2023 Psychology Extern, Counseling and Wellness Services

Supervisor: Sheila Brosnahan, PhD

- Provided time-limited counseling (up to 10 sessions) to Hunter College undergraduate and graduate students
- Integrated assessments (CCAPS-62 and CCAPS-34) to inform treatment planning
- Trained in and implemented risk assessments for students with suicidal ideation, violent ideation, and NSSI
- Services provided: Individual therapy, intake interviews, risk assessments

Summer 2019- Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, MA

Summer 2021 Clinical Research Coordinator II, Behavioral Medicine Program, Department of Psychiatry

Supervisors: Conall O’Cleirigh, PhD; Samantha Marquez McKetchnie, MSW; Allison Labbe, PhD

- Created handouts, homework, and flipbooks based on CBT principles to better engage participants in the therapeutic process
- Trained in basic principles of motivational interviewing and risk assessment to encourage therapeutic retention and crisis management
- Supervised in interactions with participants with complex trauma histories and emotional dysregulation
- Assisted in questionnaire administration for low-literacy participants

Summer 2019- Camp Kesem Nationals, Boston, MA & New York, NY

Summer 2021 Camper Follow-Up Volunteer

- Create and disseminate plans for campers who have experienced the trauma of a guardian’s cancer and have mental and/or physical health concerns
- Craft plans for campers with physical and/or mental health concerns
- Coordinate implementation of plans between camper family and university

Summer 2019 Camp Kesem University of Richmond, Richmond, VA

Counselor, Teen Leadership Program

- Guided campers through the experience of overcoming the trauma of a guardian’s cancer through engagement in many coping activities
- Mentored teenage campers (ages 15-18) to become mentors themselves through engagement in leadership forums and activities
- Encouraged participation of youth with intellectual disabilities (Down Syndrome) and adapted activities to suit the needs and abilities of all campers

Summer 2017 Children’s National Hospital, Washington, DC

Safe Concussion Outcome and Recovery Education Clinic Intern, Center for Neuroscience and Behavioral Medicine

Supervisors: Gerard Gioia, PhD; Catherine McGill, PsyD; Ashley Levan, PhD

- Observed intake and follow-up sessions for children and adolescents experiencing a traumatic brain injury
- Shadowed clinical assessments for all patients

- Gained experience in understanding and interpreting various measures relating to traumatic brain injuries

2015-2019 Best Buddies, Richmond, VA

Peer Buddy

- Provided a support system for Richmond community members with intellectual disabilities
- Worked one-on-one with a young adult with autism to encourage healthy engagement in community activities
